DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11, drawn to methods of screening compounds for cognitive enhancing activity, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
 - II. Claims 12-23 and 48, drawn to methods of screening compounds for hypnotic activity, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
 - III. Claims 24-35, and 49, drawn to methods of screening compounds for anxiolytic activity, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
 - IV. Claims 36-47 and 50, drawn to methods of screening compounds for antidepressant activity, classified in class 436, subclass 501.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Although there are no provisions under the section for "Relationship of Inventions" in M.P.E.P. § 806.05 for inventive groups that are directed to different methods, restriction is deemed to be proper because these methods appear to constitute patentably distinct inventions for the following reasons: Groups I-IV are directed to methods that are distinct both physically and functionally, e.g. they require different animal models of distinct aspects of physiology, and are not required one for the other. Group I requires methods of screening compounds for cognitive enhancing activity, which is not required by any of the other groups. Group II requires methods of screening compounds for hypnotic activity, which is not required by any of the other groups. Group III requires methods of screening compounds for anxiolytic activity, which is not required by any of the other groups. Group IV requires methods of screening compounds for antidepressant activity, which is not required of any of the other groups. Further, although a search of one method may overlap that of another, the searches would not be coextensive; a search of any one of the methods could not be relied upon to provide art that is anticipatory of any other method.

Therefore, because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and because a search and examination of all the groups in one patent application would result in an undue burden, since the searches for the groups are not co-extensive, and the subject matter is divergent, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
